Total Withdrawal Demand On Soviet's Troops In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the House of Representatives today called for withdrawal of all—and not just part—of the estimated 17,000 troops and technicians in Cuba.

U.S. sources disclosed Tuesday that Soviet Premier Khrushchev had sent President Kennedy a note Monday saying that Russia plans within a few weeks to ship home several thousand Russian soldiers from Cuba.

This was generally accepted in Congress as a significant development. But both Democratic and Republican leaders said the Kennedy Administration must continue to press for complete evacuation of Russian military men from the island.

Some informants said the Russians had given assurance that several thousand troops would be out of Cuba by March 15.

There was no official comment from the White House or the state department.

Senator Richard B. Russell, Georgia Democrat who is chairman of the Senate armed services committee, said that while the Soviet pledge to withdraw some troops is encouraging, "we cannot be complacent about it until all the Russian troops and technicians manning any weapons are removed."

Senator Everett S. Long, Louisiana Democrat who is head of the Senate preparedness subcommittee, Senator Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican, and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana expressed similar views.

Intelligence Boss Questioned On 'Picture Gap' In Cuban Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Intelligence chief John A. McCone has been questioned at a secret congressional meeting about a so-called "picture gap" in the aerial surveillance of Cuba during the Russian missile buildup. It was learned today.

Informed sources said McCone was "pinned down" on the issue Tuesday, but because of security considerations the sources would give no further details. The Central Intelligence Agency director briefed the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee behind closed doors and answered questions for more than three hours.

The "picture gap" is a blank stretch from last Sept. 5 to Oct. 15 in the aerial photographs made public two weeks ago in an extraordinary two-hour television briefing by Defense Secretary McNamara and an intelligence aide.

In all the 60-odd photographs flashed on the screen, none fell in the "picture gap," a critical time period at the end of which the Russians were discovered to have actually made ready intermediate range missiles that could reach deep into United States territory.

McCone was asked about the gap. He answered that aerial photos had been taken on a number of days within the Sept. 5-Oct. 15 period, but that because of lack of time a selection had to be made of which photos to show on television. That explanation has not satisfied some observers in Congress.

ECM 'Go-It-Alone' Plan First Favored In New French Move

PARIS (AP) — France intends to push for further trade-easing measures within the Common Market before opening the door of the customs union to additional countries.

This plan, reported today by French sources, seemed to exclude for the present a fusion of the Common Market with part or all of the other European trade blocs, the European Free Trade Association, EFTA countries are Britain, Austria, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, Sweden and Switzerland.

EFTA ministers, meeting in Geneva, Tuesday postponed for three months any decision on a comprehensive policy to meet the Common Market challenge.

The ministers set 1966 as the year when they hope to abolish tariffs on each other's goods, and pledged to work for increased world trade.

EFTA regretted the breakdown of negotiations for British entry into the Common Market and said this meant a setback in the economic integration of Europe. There was some sentiment, particularly from Austria, that an association should be forged with the Common Market.

New UK 'Fiver' Born

LONDON (CP) — A new British £5 note goes into circulation Thursday with a teenage Britannia on one side and a new portrait of the Queen on the other.

French sources said in Paris, however, that the most recent matter at hand was pushing ahead with internal development of the Common Market.

Afterward, these sources said, consideration can be given to letting other countries in.

UK to Continue Working On Secret Nuclear Arm

LONDON (AP) — The British government said today that it will continue developing a secret nuclear weapon to be carried by Britain's H-bombers.

The weapon, details of which have not been announced, is expected to help fill the gap left by the junking of the American bomber-borne Skybolt missile until Britain has a Polaris-equipped submarine fleet. It will supplement the British Blue Steel bomb which can be carried by the same RAF jet bombers.

disclosure in a white paper reporting that Britain will spend $1,888,000,000 ($5,654,000,000) for defence in the next fiscal year. Nuclear deterrent was high on the cost list.

The secret British weapon originally was intended for tactical use by fighter planes flying close to the ground to avoid discovery by enemy radar. The white paper said air force experts had decided it could be adapted quickly and cheaply to give a strategic nuclear punch to the RAF's jet bombers.

"Notwithstanding the cancellation of Skybolt," the white pa-

Terrorism in Venezuela Work of Few—Betancourt

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela said today his government is stable despite aggressive Communist subversion directed through Havana from Moscow and Peking.

He said in a speech prepared for the National Press Club that groups of Red terrorists, by making off with five paintings from a French art exhibition in Caracas and seizing the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui, had gained "excessive international publicity" that gives a distorted picture of the situation in his country.

"These acts of terrorism... are commando operations carried out by small groups that have absolutely no help or support from the people of Venezuela," Betancourt said the Communists had failed to influence organized labor and farm workers, and had retreated among students where there was a "lessening of receptivity to their slogans."

Hijacked Ship Taken Over

BELEM, Brazil (AP) — With Brazilian authorities in control, the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui sailed today toward the Amazon port of Macapa, last stop in her week's forced run at gunpoint.

The freighter's pro-Communist captors, d.i.s.a.r.m.e.d. Tuesday night without a fight, faced detention as "guests" of the Brazilian navy while diplomats wrangled over their fate.

At Macapa, a port on the north side of the Amazon 230 miles northwest of Belem, the freighter was to be returned to its owners — the Venezuelan Government Shipping Company — after officials transferred the insurgents to a Brazilian destroyer escort.

Mr. Halpenny told The Free Press in an interview while attending the Ontario Progressive Conservative party annual meeting in Toronto his health prompted his decision.

"I feel all right, but I have to respect the wishes of my doctor," said Mr. Halpenny, who has represented the constituency of London since 1957.

Mr. Halpenny, who has suffered two heart attacks within the last 18 months, said the strain of the last parliamentary session, coupled with ministerial responsibilities, had left him exhausted.

Test-Ban Chasm "Grows Deeper"

Gap Narrower Says Envoy But Seems More Dangerous

GENEVA (Reuters) — The United States delegate to the 17-nation disarmament conference said today that the gulf between East and West on the nuclear test ban issue seemed narrower but deeper than before.

William Foster told the 100th session of the conference "it is true that we appear to be closer together than we have been, at least since November, 1961. We are at the same time, however, in danger of a perhaps more difficult gulf to bridge."

"For, as our positions in some regards have come closer, the gulf between them seems to have deepened," Foster said. "As a result, the last step across this gulf appears difficult to take."

Meanwhile, the Soviet Union put on the agenda a draft non-aggression pact between NATO and its east European equivalent, the Warsaw pact powers.

The Soviet Union has for some time been calling on the disarmament conference to agree to such a non-aggression pact as a "collateral" disarmament measure which could be taken immediately for reducing the risks of war.

'CONSULT TOGETHER'

The draft provides that when situations dangerous to peace arise the two parties "shall consult together with a view to taking any implementing such joint measures as, in conformity with the United Nations charter, may be considered appropriate for peaceful settlement of such situations."

The Warsaw pact nations are the Soviet Union, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Albania and Bulgaria. The United States does not recognize East Germany.

When the conference resumed Feb. 12, the Soviet Union introduced another draft declaration, calling for the immediate withdrawal of strategic weapons from foreign bases. This was rejected by Western delegates who said the Soviet Union was seeking military superiority during the disarmament process.

Foster spoke amid press reports that the U.S. may move toward bridging the gulf by slightly reducing its minimum quota of eight to 10 annual inspections on Russian soil to police a test ban agreement.

There was no official confirmation of the reports, described here as "speculative."

The Age says that at one stage the queen was practically smothered in a two-yard circle in the midst of a surging sea of people in the 90-degree heat.

BC Socred Candidate Hurt In Fatal Crash At Sicamous

VERNON (Staff) — Social Credit candidate for Okanagan-Revelstoke, Peck Paynter is in hospital, one man is dead, and two others injured as a result of a two-car head-on crash Tuesday on Highway 97A, two miles south of Sicamous.

Dead is Ludwig Jacob Hennig, 51, of Vernon's B.C. district. Driver of the car, Hennig's son Lorne and Mr. Paynter's passenger Lloyd O'Brien, are in Shuswap Lake General Hospital in Salmon Arm suffering from multiple facial and internal injuries. Lorne Hennig is in only fair condition, hospital authorities said today, but Mr. Paynter and Mr. O'Brien are "satisfactory" and are expected to be released from hospital within seven days.

SLIGHT CURVE

The accident occurred on a slight curve on the highway

while light snow was falling making road conditions hazardous, RCMP in Sicamous said.

RCMP stressed that seat belts had not been installed in either car and suggested that serious injury and the death could possibly have been averted if the cars had been equipped with belts.

The Hennigs were northbound at the time of the accident, and Mr. Paynter and Mr. O'Brien were heading for Kelowna from Revelstoke to attend a meeting of the Okanagan and Malheur District Associated Chambers of Commerce. Mr. O'Brien is the past president of the Sicamous chamber. Mr. Paynter was to see off his election campaign in Enderby Friday.

RCMP continue to investigate the accident.

Chamber of Commerce Basic Ideas Discussed

Following the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan-Mainline Associated Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade Tuesday morning at the Capri Motor Inn, the Kelowna group acted as host to a second chamber meeting titled "New horizons in leadership" sponsored jointly by the Canadian and B.C. Chambers of Commerce.

Registration for delegates from all over the Okanagan, Princeton, Merritt and Kamloops areas began at 1:30 p.m. and was then followed by a series of discussions concluding at 6 p.m. with a reception and dinner for all delegates.

Chairing the afternoon meeting was R. B. Erb, manager of the organization service for the national chamber and Charles Bantcock, B.C. regional manager of the national chamber and manager of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce.

BASIC IDEA
Speaking to the delegates, Mr. Bantcock said the basic idea for such a conference was to conduct an interchange of ideas on the proper functioning of various chambers across the country.

"The desire of the chamber of commerce in any area is to be the leader in community thinking, and should be the conscience and will of the community if any chamber is to achieve its purpose," said Mr. Bantcock in his opening address.

"Boards of trade and chambers of commerce are born of enthusiasm and the need for achieving some community project. Their continued existence and their service to the community depends on the development of a useful program of work," he continued.

Mr. Erb, in his initial address to the conference, said one purpose of the Canadian chamber was to promote co-operation among boards of trade and chambers of commerce, increasing their efficiency and extending their usefulness in all the provinces.

Mr. Erb also stressed two important points. A board or chamber, if it is to meet its responsibilities of community leadership, should have a definite, clear-cut program of work evolved by the best thought of the community. It should be revised annually, and to be completely successful, the program should be under continuous study and review.

The second point stressed by Mr. Erb suggested the program should first have a community need, be practical, and the list of activities should be short, though comprehensive.

FOUR GROUPS
Following general discussions on work programs for every area, delegates were broken into four groups, and were given four basic components to follow in a program of work committees, with each component suited to any community that wished to follow a set program of activities.

The first program was given the heading of Commercial, with a breakdown of any one of 23 questions a chamber could ask the citizens of the community in order to brighten the commercial aspect of such a community.

The second component was listed as Industrial, and had eight ideas on how to encourage industrial expansion in the community.

The third component was agricultural, and had seven ways to promote better agricultural foundations to the community.

The fourth component was listed as Civic activities, under the headings of recreation, education, transportation, social welfare, public utilities, professional and business service.

"The development and maintenance of membership was also discussed at length and was considered a must for the survival and proper functioning of any active chamber group in the community."

FINANCES
One of the last needs pointed out in a chamber's functioning was proper and adequate financing.

Mr. Erb said there were many ways a board or chamber could plan solid financial footing. One of these sources was obtaining revenue from membership dues. If this were not enough, then straight dues and sustaining funds, multiple membership or a sliding scale of dues program could be put into effect.

Sound financial procedure should build chamber confidence in its members and all financial records should be accurate and detailed, be regularly brought before the management, summarization of the chamber's financial structure be planned, with all records open to a chamber's members and approved at least annually.

PC Riding Officials Lay Election Plans

President of the Kelowna and District Progressive Conservative party, Percy Tucker, said today that following an executive meeting of the party Tuesday night policy and organizational plans for the coming election campaign are now being formulated.

An important public meeting is planned by the party for Thursday, February 28, at the Kelowna Aquatic Club. Final plans for the campaign will be reviewed and will be put into effect at that time.

Mr. Tucker also said the Conservative committee rooms will be located at 233 Bernard street for regular campaign sessions and will be opened business.

Members of the last Parliament for the Okanagan-Boundary area, David Pugh of Oliver, attended the Tuesday night Kelowna meeting and was given full endorsement to again contest the riding by those attending.

Part of Mr. Pugh's campaign policy has been formed and according to Mr. Tucker, Mr. Pugh stands fully behind the plans of Mr. Deffenbacher to form the next federal government.

New campaign manager for Mr. Pugh will be Mrs. Neil McKelvey of Penticton who is now arranging for the nomination convention to take place in Penticton at the Royal Canadian Legion hall, Monday, February 25, at 8 p.m.

Meanwhile, other parties in the federal campaign as far as the Okanagan-Boundary area is concerned, said Ross Sutherland official agent for F. D. Jack Shaw who was nominated to run on the Social Credit ticket for this area.

The Social Credit plans are well under way with the exception of the location of suitable headquarters for the party which will be located here in Kelowna.

Student Assistance Association Needs New Financial Support

The annual meeting of the Kelowna Student Assistance Association will take place Thursday, February 21 at 8 p.m. in the Kelowna Senior High School.

"Serving a worthwhile cause since the organization began in 1947, the association is again in need of financial support in order to continue helping students who wish to further their studies in their chosen vocations," said Gordon Herbert, fund secretary today.

A total of 97 students have been helped to date with grants totaling $27,600. Last year alone needy students received $8,800, which averaged $900 per student.

The loan is granted interest free, repayable when the student secures a position and is able to repay the loan on what is known as a revolving plan.

At the present time, 16 students receive help who are taking either nurses training or teachers training at UBC.

Mr. Herbert said not one cent has been lost since the organization began.

At the present time the fund is almost depleted and there is a great need for contributors to come forward to assist these

Water Meters For Rutland

RUTLAND—The Rutland Waterworks District is starting to install meters in the houses under the domestic water system.

The work is being done as a winter work project, and will be spread over two years.

The meters installed the first year will be used for recording purposes only, but as soon as all houses are equipped with meters, in the second year, the charge for water will be on a measurement basis for all. Instead of the flat rate as at present.

The cost of the installation is estimated at $12,000. The Water Rights Branch are greatly concerned over the large amount of water used per connection, and the provincial government, which guarantees the debentures of the district, is unwilling to approve further capital expenditures to increase the water supply until there is adequate control over what they consider is an excessive consumption of water.

The Rutland Waterworks District has sets of house numbers that are being made available to householders in their district. Any person wishing to have these numbers may have them installed at the same time that the meters are being put in.

Two motor vehicle accidents and the theft of gasoline from a car were reported to RCMP overnight.

Tuesday two cars driven by Mrs. Helen Topolinsky, RR2, Kelowna, and John Dyck, 2033 Long St., were in collision at the corner of Ellis St. and Leon Ave. Police said the accident occurred when the Topolinsky vehicle failed to stop at the stop sign on Leon Ave. and smashed into Dyck vehicle. As a result Mrs. Dyck received bruises to both her knees and head and the aggregate damage to both vehicles was estimated in excess of $300.

Mrs. Topolinsky was arrested and appeared in court Wednesday morning charged with impaired driving. She pleaded not guilty and was remanded to April 10 as one of the investigating officers is going on a training course and will not be available to testify before then.

The second accident occurred early Wednesday on highway 97 near the Rutland turnoff. A car driven by James Alexander into the Dyck vehicle. As a result Mrs. Dyck received bruises to both her knees and head and the aggregate damage to both vehicles was estimated in excess of $300.

Gordon Ferguson, 2178 Woodlawn St., reported to police Tuesday that the gasoline had been taken from the gas tank of his car some time Monday night. RCMP are investigating.

Three Accidents Over Weekend

Three minor accidents, one fire and the theft of an automobile were reported to the Mount-Ed Police over the weekend.

Saturday, Feb. 11, a car driven by Mrs. Jack Bedford of Kelowna struck a light standard in front of the Simpsons-Sears store, no damage was reported to the light standard, but $100 damage was caused to the auto.

At 12:25 p.m. of the 10th Peter Atkinson was struck by a car driven by Mr. F. C. Williams, of 1343 Dillworth Crescent, when he was crossing the street at the corner of Bernard and Mill Street.

At 4:45 a.m. Sunday a car driven by Yoshitaka Wada of Westbank left the road four miles west of the Okanagan Lake bridge, damaged to the car was estimated at $150. There were no injuries reported.

Basis of Intolerance Is Generally Fear

Fear is among those powerful motives that explain a great many actions and attitudes. In the field of human relations very often ignorance is at the root of that fear.

It is to do away with that ignorance and thus promote better relations among men that the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews was founded in 1947.

In Canada numerous are the reasons that explain this ignorance. First our country is so vast that in the little isolated villages on the Atlantic shore nothing is known of the villages of the Prairies.

But more serious yet is the very constitution of our country: a bilingual country with a very small proportion of its people being bilingual. In some areas, both groups live together and learn to know each other. But in greater areas of the country there exists the most complete ignorance about the other group.

To make matters worse there are the other groups that may not have legal existence, but they are nevertheless part of the population like the Ukrainians, the Italians, the Germans and others.

Finally there is the religious factor: Catholics, Protestants, Jews.

It is out of these heterogeneous elements that we hope to form a Canadian nation where peace and brotherhood will reign.

This is no mean task. Our governments cannot legislate to establish brotherhood. It will have to take root in the different ethnic and religious groups.

But first ignorance must be removed. As long as the French Canadian does not know the English Canadian, as long as the Protestant does not know the Catholics, as long as the New Canadian is not known to the old Canadians, ignorance prevails and breeds fear and distrust.

The brotherhood that should reign in our country is that which grants others the same dignity and rights as one claims for himself.

It is to bring about the birth and growth of brotherhood that prominent Canadians representing the church, education, industry and politics have instituted the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews.

And once a year on the occasion of Brotherhood Week—this week—we all try together to dissipate that ignorance.

Thus the council attempts to reach the aim to be found in its bylaws: "To promote justice, amity, understanding and co-operation among all Canadians; to analyse, reduce and finally eliminate among the different groups the prejudice that alters and disfigures the relations at the religious, commercial, social and political levels in order to establish a social order in which the ideals of brotherhood and justice will be the rule in human relations."

Idaho Centennial

Canadians will be interested in knowing that a neighboring state, Idaho, is celebrating its hundredth birthday in the true Western tradition in 1963. It was created a hundred years ago during the dark crisis days of the Civil War when the hand of President Abraham Lincoln signed the necessary act of Congress March 3, 1863. So a great group of rich western lands became Idaho; the Idaho Territory.

It was much bigger than the state of Texas: big enough to be comparable to the thirteen original states. It contained what is now Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and parts of North and South Dakota and Nebraska.

A geographical monstrosity, it was called. But it was a hopeful idea to help assure the best progress for a tide of revolution that was reshaping the lives of everyone in the far west. Whole populations were shifting suddenly from west coast areas to the gold-strike fields of Idaho. Populations vanished and reappeared in Idaho almost overnight. Idaho appeared ready for independence as a territory with 33,000 or more inhabitants, whereas Oregon became a territory with about 9,000 and Washington with something over 3,000. Many of the thousands who suddenly settled in Idaho rushed in from Oregon, Washington and surrounding states.

Gold was the magnet: more gold than in half a dozen Alaskas. The Great Idaho gold rush was on. Miners poured in from California and the west. Lewiston was founded by a tent-store owner and boomed into a flourishing distributing point. Many businesses and homes were set up hurriedly in tents which when lighted at night gave the city a picturesque Japanese-lantern glow. It was nicknamed Ragtown in the echoing tradition of such romance names as Baboon's Gulch, Hangtown, Lousville, Bisuka (Bazooka), a town named Zaza, and a lady named Molly B'Damn. Idaho had more than its share in the wealth of real western color and visitors still find it there today. But in the old days the prospectors found gold. The news of this gold swept many men from well established positions into the pursuit of wealth.

Oregon then was a sovereign state with permanent boundaries, but Washington was a territory and subject to changes at will of the federal government. 3,000 miles away. Governing bodies feared the loss of their capitals, authority and their jobs as gold miners rushed to the promising Idaho fields and even capital cities took on a ghost-town look. Gold centres were larger than cities: Idaho City (first called Bannock) became the biggest city in the Northwest. Back in Washington, D.C., Republican senators were favorable to establishing sympathetic states in the west so as to strengthen their majority against the return of southern democratic states at the end of the Civil War.

A leader in manoeuvring the bill through the Congress was William Wallace, who became Idaho's first territorial governor, and the fact that he was a great personal friend of Lincoln's was considerable help. The bill started through the House with the new Territory's name as Montana, but the name on the printed document was changed, in pen and ink, to Idaho and won full approval. Lincoln signed the bill on March 3, 1863. On March 17, Wallace was sworn in as governor by Lincoln.

On March 6, before they knew they lived in a territory or had a governor, the Idaho City Volunteers left their diggings to fight and defeat the Snake Indians who resented mining in southwestern Idaho. More gold and silver discoveries followed. Events poured into the reservoir of past time, as fast as Idaho's flashing rapids and waterfalls. For Idaho's wild frontier sprang to life in a time when the tempo of human action was only a life-span away from us and things happened many times faster than had ever before occurred on a wild frontier.

Site of the United States military post was chosen as Fort Boise, where Idaho's capital spreads its tree-shaded beauty today. This was July 4, the day of Vicksburg and Gettysburg (though the news didn't reach Idaho till weeks later). On July 7, Boise City was founded near the fort. On July 10th, Governor Wallace organized the territory at Lewiston, his temporary capital, which then actually didn't even belong to the United States, much less Idaho.

In the tradition of western individualism and tradition of the president who officially named the area, Idaho's centennial celebration will be "for the people and by the people." In addition to renewed and expanded activities in Idaho's four-season world of sports and events—boating, hunting, fishing, everything the outdoors can offer, and rodeos that stir memories of sunny days and thundering hoofs and set stary nights ablaze with color. There will be national events in every field from the National Old Time Fiddlers Contest, National Appaloosa Horse Show, to the opening of museums, square-dance festivals, pioneer festivals, old-time costume celebrations, and others. The wild west is only a yesterday away in Idaho and some of the best of the west is still here to celebrate this special and happy birthday.

THE '63 MODELS

Kelowna Ranch Included In Sales To Americans

VANCOUVER (CP) — A land that lured trail herds north 100 years ago is beckoning again to United States stockmen.

In the 1860s the bait was the promise of a lucrative market among beef-hungry gold-seekers in the Cariboo. Today it's the prospect of capital gains coupled with escape from high taxes at home.

And, say some cattlemen, the tax situation cuts two ways. High taxes in British Columbia have put many Canadian ranchers in a mood to listen to offers.

Add to all this the premium of the U.S. dollar and you have reasons why more than two-thirds of B.C.'s cattle land is in the hands of U.S. owners.

Ranching in B.C. is a $12,000, 600-acre industry which was pioneered by herdsmen from the south.

Such men were Thaddeus and Jerome Harper, who left Harper's Ferry, Va., 100 years ago and settled at Pike's Riffle, northwest of Clinton, B.C., at the height of the Cariboo gold rush.

Beef was selling at $1.50 a pound so, in 1862, they went to Oregon and picked up a herd of Herefords, Texas longhorns and scrubs and drove them north.

SECOND BIGGEST Jerome, crippled by a kick from a horse, died in 1874. Thaddeus carried on and in 1883 organized the Gang Ranch by amalgamating a number of smaller spreads. Today it's owned by W. P. Studart of Phillipsburg, Mo., and F. G. Skelton of Idaho. It rolls across 45,000 acres and controls another 1,000,000 acres of grazing range. In North America, only the King Ranch of Texas is larger.

G. H. Johnson, once a rancher himself and now interior farm-land manager for a real estate firm, says the modern-day northward movement of U.S. cattle began after the Second World War.

"Land is considerably cheaper up here than in the U.S.," he said, adding that it's mainly older people who are selling out. He finds many of the purchasers are businessmen first and cattlemen second.

"One man came from Oregon and paid $500,000 for a ranch. He sold the timber on his property for $500,000, leaving himself free. Few Canadians seem as diversified in their thinking."

GERARD T. GILCHON, president of the B.C. Beef Cattle Growers' Association who operates a ranch 40 miles south of Kamloops, says some ranchers are running into estate tax problems, making it difficult to turn the ranches over to their sons.

"When an American comes up with a fancy cash price, it's very tempting to sell out."

One worry is that new land assessments might be based on these high sell-out prices.

E. D. Woodward, senior economist for the federal agriculture department, said in Vernon, B.C., that while the industry itself is in a healthy state, about one-third of the ranchers are gradually going out of business.

He quoted a 1959 survey of 80 interior B.C. ranches. In the top bracket, net earnings averaged $3,676 a year; the middle section showed average profit of $672, and the bottom third had average loss of $3,500.

In the last five years some colorful cattle spreads have changed hands.

Nicola Lake Stock Farm, sold in 1959, was begun by Maj. C. S. Goldman when he came home from the First World War. It ran 50,000 acres. After his death in 1938 his widow operated the property. She died a year later and it went to two sons in England.

MILLIONS CHANGE HANDS

When George Parker of San Antonio, Tex., bought it, the ranch, between Nicola and Merritt, ran 2,200 cattle and 1,200 breeding ewes on 35,000 acres. Price wasn't disclosed but the property had been listed for a year at $800,000.

The Circle S, also sold in 1959, had 35,000 acres stretching southwest from Williams Lake. Originally a winter holding area for the horses of freighters hauling ore and supplies to and from the Cariboo gold fields, it had 2,500 head of white-faced Herefords when sold to Allerton Cushman of Bonita, Ariz., by Col. Victor Spencer of Vancouver for an undisclosed price.

Early in 1960 the Casaro Ranch, 19,000 acres near Kelowna, was sold to U.S. interests. Later the same year, a 17,000-acre Willow Ranch, between Kamloops and Merritt went to Philip N. McKenna of Pennsylvania.

Dog Creek Ranch in the Williams Lake area, established in 1860 by pioneer J. S. Phee, was sold to Mr. and Mrs. George Denning of Los Angeles in 1961.

Shortly after that a 16,000-acre property owned by Jessie and Fraser MacDonald 10 miles south of Kamloops was sold for $450,000 to Damon Somavia of Hollister, Calif.

Last summer Californian Fred Hilton Davis sold the 28,000-acre Highland Ranch near 105 Mile House in the Cariboo to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Monical and their three sons of Redmond, Ore. The price was reported to be more than $1,200,000.

OTTAWA REPORT

MPs' Pension Generous

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Nearly one-fifth of all the members of this parliament are now newly-qualified for the MP's pension — and many of them may well be drawing it before Easter.

To qualify for this very generous pension, an MP must contribute $240 per year, and must sit in at least three different parliaments. As our normal parliament lasts between four and five years, this would mean that a minimum of say 15 years representation in the House of Commons would entitle an ex-MP to the pension.

But our recent parliaments have not lasted for the normal length. In June 1957 we elected a parliament which was dissolved within eight months, and again in June 1962 we elected a parliament which was dissolved within eight months. In between, we had a parliament which lasted barely four years.

Thus the crop of new MPs who were first elected to parliament in that 1957 election are now eligible for the pension — if they retire or fail to win re-election.

TORY FLOOD

The 1957 crop was the first wave of the flood of new Conservatives who came in on the Diefenbaker surge. There were also a small handful of representatives of other parties newly elected at that time, and four of these are now eligible for pension.

These are the first four some in the New Democratic Party, Douglas Fisher from Port Arthur, Murdoch Martin from Timmins, Arnold Peters from Kirkland Lake, and Frank Howard representing Skeena, B.C.

The great body of Conservatives, who were first elected in 1957 and were still MPs at dissolution two weeks ago, now cover the whole range, from cabinet minister to back-bencher. They include cabinet newcomers Marcel Lambert from Alberta and cabinet old timer Ray O'Hurley from Quebec. They also include a well-liked and able group of back-benchers from Ontario, Heber Smith from Simcoe North, "Doc" Rydman from Simcoe East, Gordon Aiken from Parry Sound-Muskoka, Jim Baskin from South Huron, Bobby McDonald, the former Tiger-Cat footballer from Hamilton, and others. Then, too, Guelph's Alf Hales, recently promoted to be parliamentary secretary to the minister of labor, is among this group.

Altogether, there seem to be 49 MPs who qualified for the pension by their service in the last parliament.

MPs in the last parliament who had qualified earlier for the pension include 19 who have now sat in four parliaments, 11 who have sat in five, nine who have sat in six, and then also more MPs who are the real veterans. Among these latter are External Affairs Minister Howard Green, former Health Minister Paul Martin, former Transport Minister Lucien Chevrier, and Liberal front-bencher Aelias Denis who have all sat in eight parliaments, and John Diefenbaker and Tory front-bencher Elston Cardin, as well as Liberals George McRath, George Nixon and Raymond Kodes who have sat in seven.

Mr. Chevrier has had a break in his service, so Howard Green, Paul Martin and Aelias Denis now tie for the title of "Father of the House."

PENSION'S WORTH

MPs contribute $240 per year to their pension fund, until they have paid in a maximum of $4,000, which takes just over 16 years. They draw as a pension, a yearly sum equal to 75 per cent of their total premiums. This means that the 1957 crop, who have fortuitously qualified for the pension after unusually short service in parliament, would now be entitled to receive an unusually low pension of just over $1,000 per year.

Also those MPs mentioned above seem likely to be re-elected, and in that case they will be able to pay more contributions into the pension fund, and thus augment the pension they will ultimately receive.

VICTORIA MERRY-GO-ROUND

Not Language Of Parliament

By JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA — The budget debate drags on, with just as everyone knew, Social Crediters saying it's a splendid document of help for everyone, and the oppositionists saying it's not much good at all, not nearly as good as Premier Bennett said it would be.

This is time-honored technique. You always know what will be said, depending on the politics of the speaker. This can get boring, until relieved by some cross-fire, and a little shouting and yelling.

Recreation and Conservation Minister Earl Westwood did some yelling at NDP Dave Barrett of Dewdney, who had imitated Westwood played politics with development of Garibaldi Park. This put Westwood into a raging fury, and I'm sure he actually said something like Barrett telling a pack of lies in order to gain "some lousy votes."

This is highly unparliamentary language, but I'm sure Mr. Westwood, usually a mild man, said it, and didn't appear to be one bit sorry for having so said.

In fact, he looked most pleased with himself, and relieved to have it off his chest.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan must have stayed up half the night brewing some fancy phrases to describe, to his own satisfaction, the Bennett budget. Mr. Strachan's a pretty slick phrase corner, quite on a par, I'd say, with the premier. With a fine flourish, and in a loud voice, that sometimes snarled, sometimes sneered, Strachan called the budget "fiscal quackery that is promoted through hyperbole, equivocation, provarication and duplicity."

"It's no wonder," he said, his heat Glasgow burr coming to the fore, "that people don't trust this government. You say one thing and mean another. You shuffle, you juggle, and you quibble."

But the premier, having expected such an onslaught, paid little heed to Mr. Strachan. Throughout most of the Strachan speech, the premier turned his back, so as to talk with his education minister, Mr. Peterson, who would speak on the morning. Was the premier telling Mr. Peterson what to say? Surely not, Mr. Premier. Your education minister's a bright young man. He doesn't need to be primed, even by such a master of oracles as you, sir.

The farmers are mostly ignored in the legislature these days, there not being enough of them any more to worry about. They don't control votes like they used to. Time was when every one cried about farmers and their problems.

Liberal Leader Ray Perrault, however, decided the farmers have been too long ignored, and so he did his best to bring them into public focus, but no-one paid much attention, most MLAs these days being big-city slickers.

This Social Credit government, said Perrault, ignores farmers and milks them when it can. The farmers, he said, are not making the progress this government would have the public believe they are. The average farmer's income, said Perrault, just has not kept up with the increase in his cost of living.

Any day now the budget debate will end, and the House will get down to business. Two weeks ago I thought MLAs would be anxious to get out onto the hustings in the federal election campaign, but they seem to be over their excitement in that regard, appearing quite content to go on with their speech-making, especially now that they're all going to get a pay boost.

CHICKEN A LA KING BAKE

Chicken Was A Luxury Item In The Days Of Abe Lincoln

When Abraham Lincoln was born, chicken was a luxury item, usually home-raised. A cook book in my collection published in Civil War days contains only 10 recipes for preparing chicken as an entree.

Today, because of the high quality, plentitude and budget-wise cost of broiler-fryers, chicken can be made into hundreds of delicious dishes, even with small food budgets.

The following variation of Chicken a la King can be prepared in advance ready for baking and presents chicken with ham that sparks the meat flavors.

Measurements level; recipes for six.

CHICKEN A LA KING BAKE WITH HAM DEVILLED EGGS

- 1 c. butter or margarine
- 1 c. flour
- 1 c. chicken broth
- 1 c. milk
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. ground pepper
- 1 tsp. fine-grated onion
- 1/2 c. large-deiced cooked chicken
- 1/4 c. dried green pepper
- 1 pimento, deiced
- 1 (4 oz.) can sliced mushrooms
- 2 tbsp. sherry wine
- or 2 tsp. water and 1 tsp. sherry flavoring

Ham Devilled Eggs (follows)

Prepare Ham Devilled Eggs (in advance if desired).

Melt butter or margarine; add flour; stir over low heat until uniformly thickened.

Add seasonings, chicken, green pepper, pimento and mushrooms; heat thoroughly. Add sherry.

Transfer to long shallow casserole (about 11"). Cover; bake 20 min. in hot oven 400 deg. F., or until bubbly.

Place ham devilled eggs atop Chicken a la King to heat during last 5 min. of baking; cover with foil so they don't brown.

WIFE PRESERVERS

If you use snappers to attach an athletic emblem to a sweater or jacket, you can remove it easily at wash time.

- HAM DEVILLED EGGS
6 hard-cooked eggs, halved
1 tsp. lemon juice or vinegar
1 tsp. "hot" table mustard
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. ground pepper
2 tsp. deviled ham
2 tsp. mayonnaise or salad dressing
Remove egg yolks.
Rub through sieve and mix with remaining ingredients until smooth.
If desired, add more seasoning and salad dressing. Refill the whites.

TOMORROW'S DINNER

Hot Gazpacho (canned)

Bread Sticks

Chicken a la King Bake

Spinach-Cucumber-Lettuce Salad

Strawberry Biscuit Shortcakes

Coffee Tea Milk

STRAWBERRY BISCUIT SHORTCAKES

- 1 recipe rich baking powder biscuits from a mix
- 2 tsp. butter or margarine
- 1 (1 lb.) carton frozen strawberries (half-thawed)
- 1 c. whipped or "putcher" cream

Make rich baking powder biscuits following pkg. directions. Split and butter generously.

Put together at once with half-thawed strawberries and juice, tops buttered-side-up so berries will not slide off.

Serve with cream.

THE CHIEF HARD-COOKS EGGS

Me-dames: This is the best way I have found to hard-cook eggs.

Place the eggs in a deep saucepan. Cover with cold water; bring to a rapid boil; boil just 10 minutes.

If to be hot, serve at once. If to be cold, drain and cover with cold water to prevent further interior cooking and the consequent formation of a green ring around the yolk of the egg.

STUPID CUPID DANCE

The "Stupid Cupid" Masquerade Dance held in the Community Hall on Saturday was a great success. The hall had been beautifully decorated by Mrs. J. Russell, Miss Ann Joss and Mrs. F. Heasley, with valentines and cupid motifs. Winners for the best costumes were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Knorr as Red Indians. They won a most attractive and useful basket. Second prize winners were Mr. and Mrs. E. Weiss as "Cousin Clem" and his partner. Honorable mention went to Steve Kabbas as a monk, and Miss Ann Joss as an old fashioned valentine lady. Mr. Bill Pavle won the limbo rock contest. The Donalda Saxe dance group entertained with a number of lively dances. Mrs. Saxe was presented with a bouquet of red carnations by president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. E. Heasley. An excellent supper was served. The Ladies' Auxiliary wishes to thank all those who added so much to the gaiety of the evening with the wonderful costumes they wore. Obviously a great deal of thought and trouble had gone into many of the creations. A nice profit was made for the Community Hall. A variety show is planned for the spring.

Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter IODE Reviews Past Year's Work

At the annual meeting of Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter IODE held recently at the home of Mrs. I. J. Brazier, a review of the past year's work was presented. The state of officers for 1963 will see Mrs. D. J. Kerr continuing as Regent with Mrs. E. Russell as first Vice-Regent and Miss Rosemary King as second Vice-Regent. The secretaryship has been accepted by Mrs. Geo. Friend, while the chapter's finances will be ably handled by treasurer, Mrs. F. Simon. Educational secretary is Mrs. Walter Hall and Mrs. Larry Preston will be Standard Bearer. The convener of services at home and abroad is again being very well handled by Mrs. R. W. Ross. Mrs. Peggy Lee is "Echoes" secretary.

A very successful year has been enjoyed by all members, as reported after report indicated an active community group. Mrs. H. M. Williams reported that the Superfluity Shop, the main income-producing activity had expanded to a five-day week with the help of the Mount Boucherie Chapter. Nearly $2,000 was grossed in the shop and this money was largely spent in the local area by providing glasses for children, a university scholarship and books and equipment to local schools.

Several large bundles of knitted goods, quilts and various types of children's clothing to the value of $200 was sent to the provincial chapter for distribution to overseas relief and children's hospitals.

The regular meeting carried on after the conclusion of the annual meeting. Letters were read from the children of Brookshire school, whom the chapter had "adopted" last fall. Funds were voted to Mrs. Hous for the purchase of material for sewing groups.

The provincial chapter annual meeting in April, which will be held at Royal Towers in New Westminster, was discussed and delegates were appointed, and the Founder's Day message was read to the chapter, which gave a fine record of 63 years' work.

A request has been forwarded by provincial chapter for illustrated magazines and children's magazines for use in the Eskimo and Indian community hospitals.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. P. Pettipiece.

The meeting closed with the singing of God Save the Queen.

Women's Institute Of East Kelowna Hold Luncheon

The members of the East Kelowna Women's Institute held their annual luncheon on Wednesday last in the Community Hall. The very enjoyable luncheon was convened by Mrs. E. Steinke and Mrs. A. W. Rogers.

The regular business meeting followed with the vice-president in the chair, and opened with the Mary Stewart Collect. A new member was made welcome, the minutes read, and the financial report given. Correspondence was then dealt with which included receipts from 'Care' and the 'Canadian Mental Health Association' who would like their literature presented to the members so that Mental Health problems can be discussed. The secretary reported the donation of a print, received from the Simpson Sears Company which the members extend their thanks.

The meeting concluded with the serving of a delicious afternoon tea followed by an exchange of gifts among the members.

GOT SURPRISE

CARDIFF, Wales (CP) — Nurses at a hospital here opened an ambulance expecting to find Mrs. Eunice Thomas ready to be taken to the maternity ward. But they found a paternally patient, Mrs. Thomas gave birth to a daughter in the ambulance and her husband fainted.

Dear Ann Landers: I get up at 6:00 a.m. five days a week to fix my husband a big breakfast.

On Saturday and Sunday he doesn't go to work but he gets up just the same because he can't sleep. He expects me to get up on those days and get him the same big breakfast.

I do all my own work and don't have the energy some women have. I'd enjoy sleeping a few extra hours but he insists it's my duty to get up and make him breakfast whether he goes to work or not.

He doesn't care for church, sport or visiting friends. He spends most of his weekend in bed reading, watching TV and just sleeping. I can't go back to bed during the day because I have too much work.

Do I have the right to sleep until 8:00 a.m. on the days my husband doesn't have to go to work? —TUDY

Dear Tudy: Your husband's pambing behavior is a symptom of a deeper problem. You need the help of a marriage counselor or a clergyman. A man who really cares about his wife would not make such unreasonable demands. He'd be delighted to let her sleep a few extra hours.

Wife-Housekeeper And Damage Suit!

STRABANE, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Duke of Abercorn thought the woman that gamekeeper Alexander Campbell brought to live on the ducal estate last April was his wife.

The duke didn't know what to think when she disappeared after a few weeks and another woman arrived to take her place. Then she left and the first woman returned.

Next day the Marquis of Hamilton, 28, the duke's heir, told the gamekeeper he was fired.

Campbell said in court the first woman was his housekeeper. When she left after a few weeks, he brought his wife and children, from whom he had been separated for some time, to the estate. But soon she wanted to return home. So he asked the housekeeper to come back.

Campbell unsuccessfully sued for £300 ($300) damages for wrongful dismissal or breach of contract.

VERNON VIEWPOINTS

Should motorists be warned of traffic stoppages in the Rogers Pass section of the Trans-Canada highway?

The Okanagan Valley Tourist Association thinks they should, and say at present motorists are allowed to proceed miles along the highway without prior warning of work gangs clearing snow or triggering controlled avalanches. The OVTA wants signs posted at Revelstoke and Golden advising of such delays, so motorists can spend time in these cities.

The suggestion has merit, and it should be no problem for the highway department. The national parks branch has set up an electronic warning system to give notice of dangerous snow buildups or rising winds in trigger zones—areas where avalanches begin.

The avalanche warning section is linked by radio to offices in Revelstoke, and there officials decide whether the road should be closed, what snow removal equipment to have at the ready, and whether or not to bring out the gun.

The gun is a 105 mm howitzer which is used to fire high explosives into trigger areas from predetermined positions to bring the snow down before it gets to avalanche proportions.

Since all these decisions are made in Revelstoke, the OVTA can see no reason why motorists cannot be warned if delays amounting to an hour or more occur. If signs are posted warning of say, a two-hour delay, it's quite conceivable motorists will return to Revelstoke—or Golden—and spend at least a couple of dollars. The OVTA has an excellent point and should approach the department of highways and the national parks branch.

The Vernon Chamber of Commerce knocked itself out Tuesday on a luncheon menu in honor of Victor Oland, president of the Canadian chamber.

Most of it was unfamiliar fare—even to us in the Okanagan. Here's a sampling. Silver Star mixed pickles—slalom salad—chalet half fried chicken—winter carnival green peas—Polson Park carrots—Coldstream baked potatoes—Kalamalka apple pie... and it was all served with a straight face.

Seat Belts Save Vernon Woman

VERNON (Staff) — Seat belts probably saved a woman driver from serious injury, police say when two cars collided seven miles north of Vernon on Highway 97 Tuesday.

Frida Kikutz of 2702-33th street, Vernon, was in collision with a car driven by Alfred E. Specht of Kamloops. The accident occurred on a curve in the highway and RCMP say adverse road conditions were to blame. No charge is contemplated.

Miss Kikutz was wearing an authorized seat belt at the time of the accident and RCMP say undoubtedly without it she would have received serious injury. She suffered only minor face lacerations. Specht was not injured. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $2,400.

One of Spokane's goals—as they edged the Canucks 4-2 in Vancouver—came from a Ray Brunel shot Villeneuve had decided was wide.

The Stampeders' 3-3 overtime loss to Portland Buckaroos in Calgary was one long tale of woe for Edwards.

It started in the first period when Edwards raced for the loose puck, but got there a split second after Buckaroos' Tom McCarthy fired it into the empty net.

Lou Jankowski tied the game later in the period and Gord Redahl put Calgary ahead 2-1 in the second.

Tommy McVie tied the game early in the third. Then, with about a minute left in the regulation time, Edwards and Portland's Ken Laufman collided in the net. Edwards needed six stitches to close a gash in his ear.

GET ATOM GENERATOR

TAIPEI, FORMOSA (AP) — Nationalist China's first atomic power generating plant will be installed in south Formosa by the end of 1971, it was announced here. The cost, a minimum $40,000,000 will be financed partly by the United States Agency for International Development.

In the very nature of things man cannot know God, the Creator of the universe, unless God reveals Himself to man. Man left to himself would have as many ideas of God as he has purposes concerning mankind as there are men upon the face of the earth, and none of them would be true.

The Hebrew Scriptures testify that they are the word of God and concerning them Christ said, "Thy word is truth" (John 17:17). On the surface they are but the record of the lives of certain individuals with whom it is stated God dealt, and the history of the Israelites and prophecies relating to them, but hidden therein is to be found the truth concerning the origin of man and God's plan and purpose concerning man and the way in which He will carry out that purpose, which revelation can be found nowhere else. Christ and His apostles made clear the Hebrew Scriptures and the New Testament is the record thereof (Isa. 8:20; Luke 24:27; Acts 28:22). Seek therein and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you. True Christians know what they believe and why they believe it and have a "thus saith the Lord" therefore.

All creation speaks of the knowledge, wisdom and power of God Almighty, the Creator of the heavens and of the earth (Psalm 19). Yet there are those who though they will allow it takes intelligence to build a log shanty will not allow that it took any intelligence to build the living tree from which the logs were obtained. The tree just "happened" by the law of nature. A law without a law-maker? "Shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing say of him that formed it, He had no understanding?" (Isa. 29:16) "He that planted the ear, shall he not hear, he that formed the eye, shall he not see?" (Psalm 94:9).

Christendom, while claiming to believe in Christ, has been and is so brain washed by its philosophies that men who have never read the Scriptures, let alone know what they teach, deny them as being the word of God. "His teaching is a matter before he hearth it, is folly and shame unto him" (Prov. 18:13). Others have read them only to criticize them, without any thought of seeking to understand them. Well do the Scriptures say, "The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God" (Psalm 14:1). He is so blind he has not even the beginning of wisdom and understanding. "The fear (reverence) of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom" (Psalm 111:10).

It is only by meditation upon God's word, His law and precepts, that one can gain the spirit of a sound mind and have God revealed to him in wisdom and understanding. Any wisdom, so-called, that is not based upon His word will perish, it will come to naught (Isa. 29:14-16). "To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them" (Isa. 8:20). If a teaching is based upon a true foundation it will lead to further truth. If it is based upon a false premise it can lead only to further error. The philosophies of this world are based upon a disbelieve in the word of God or upon a false conception of His character, His plan and His purpose for man. Hence the chaotic condition we see in the world today, politically, economically and religiously.

God declares, "So shall my word (the Hebrew Scriptures) be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it" (Isa. 55:11). What then has God by His word accomplished?

His word, at the appointed time, brought forth from among men Jesus, the promised Messiah, and speaking of His baptism into the will of God David prophetically said, "Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me), to do thy will, O God" (Heb. 10:7; Psalm 40:7, 8). By it He was begotten of God's spirit and by it He was guided and directed in all His ways, saying, "The word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent (commissioned) me" (John 14:24). God's word has brought forth, and is quietly and without show bringing forth, Christ's true followers; they, who, being begotten of God's spirit through the word of truth (1 Peter 1:23). The time has now come when it will shortly bring forth all Israel, the Israel of God, the twelve tribes, the ten tribes of Anglo-Saxon-Celtic people and the two tribes of Judah and Benjamin.

Canadians Down Kelowna 4-2 In Intermediate Hockey Test

A three-goal comeback in the final period Tuesday night gave Vernon Canadians a 4-2 victory over Kelowna Packers and the best-of-three Okanagan Intermediate Hockey League semifinal two straight.

Canadians now meet the league-winning Kamloops Chiefs in a best-of-seven series. Defenceman Johnny Harms drilled home two long shots to pare the Vernon attack. Singles came from Odie Lowe and Jim Pilla. For Kelowna, it was George Boychuk and Mike Durban.

NO SCORE After a scoreless first period Vernon went ahead on Pilla's slap shot at 2:25 of the second. Kelowna came back in the same period to tie it on Boychuk's screen shot from the blue line at 8:21. Packers took the lead on Mike Durban's goal-mouth potshot at 19:32.

In the final period Harms tied the game at 3:50 with a long shot from the point. Lowe sniped a rebound from close range to put the home-owners ahead at 7:34. Harms tallied again at 14:45.

Vernon outshot Kelowna 24-22, each club taking four minor penalties.

Canucks Edged 4-3 By Spokane Comets

By THE CANADIAN PRESS It was an unconvincing night Tuesday for at least two Western Hockey League goalkeepers, Gilles Villeneuve of Vancouver Canucks and Calgary Stampede's Roy Edwards.

One of Spokane Comets' goals—as they edged the Canucks 4-3 in Vancouver—came from a Ray Brunel shot Villeneuve had decided was wide.

The Stampede's 3-3 overtime loss to Portland Buckaroos in Calgary was one long tale of woe for Edwards.

It started in the first period when Edwards raced for the loose puck, but got there a split second after Buckaroos' Tom McCarthy fired it into the empty net.

Lou Jankowski tied the game later in the period and Gord Redahl put Calgary ahead 2-1 in the second.

Tommy McVie tied the game early in the third. Then, with about a minute left in the regulation time, Edwards and Portland's Ken Laufman collided in the net. Edwards needed six stitches to close a gash in his ear.

Bucks Edge Blades 7-6; Advance to OMJHL Final

By PETE MURPHY

Kelowna, B.C. — Kelowna Blades edged Vernon Vulcans last night in the fifth game of the Okanagan Junior A Hockey League best-of-seven semi-finals with a thrilling 7-6 overtime victory. Played before 1,200 fired-up fans in Kelowna, the lead saw-sawed back and forth all night. The outcome was in doubt to the dying seconds when Bucks' centre Fred Thomas scored the winner at 9:52 of the 10-minute overtime period, his second goal of the game.

Bob Gruber, league scoring champion, notched a hat trick and Ralph Kirschner and John Strong scored one apiece for Kelowna.

Curly Agar led the Vernon attack with two, while singles went to Gordie Nuyens, Howie McNeil, Bob Stein and Buck Sher.

Fresh from their first victory over Kelowna this season, in the fourth game of the series, the Blades broke fast scoring at 46 of the first period with Nuyens tallying. Kirschner got that back less than two minutes later tucking a rebound behind Vernon netminder Garyl Holland. The period ended in a 2-2 stalemate after Thomas scored his first and McNeil counted for Vernon.

Stein scored the only goal of the second stanza grabbing a loose puck at the Kelowna blue line and going in all alone beating goalie Sal Shussel with a shot that never left the ice. Holland contained his outstanding goalkeeping stuffing out 5-4 at 3:25 when he dug the numerous Buc bids Strong had three good scoring chances in this frame, hitting the post on one occasion.

Four goals were scored within the first three and a half minutes of the third period. Gruber got his first at 1:29 followed by Agar who beat Shussel with an other shot taking the ice to put the second stanza grabbing a loose puck at the Kelowna blue line and going in all alone beating goalie Sal Shussel with a shot that never left the ice. Holland contained his outstanding goalkeeping stuffing out 5-4 at 3:25 when he dug the numerous Buc bids Strong had sel's pads and repped it into the open net.

Bucks fought desperately to stay alive and at the 13 minute mark Strong set Gruber up with the equalizer. The big centre went in with two defencemen draped over him and beat Holland from in close. Both clubs missed opportunities to wrap it up in the closing minutes of the third period.

The overtime period opened up with the Bucks dominating play and Holland continued to come up with the big saves. At 3:10 Gruber blasted a short seven shot past Holland touching off a tremendous roar from the crowd with what seemed to be the clincher. Kelowna stayed on top of the Blades until 9:31 when Agar took a pass from a face off in the Bucks' end and scored to tie it up again. This goal came after Vernon had moved their goalies for a sixth attacker. The stage was then set for Thomas' pay off goal. With eight seconds left, after taking Gruber's pass, he drove a high shot into the upper left hand corner and bedlam broke loose. This climaxed the most exciting game of the season and came as a fitting end to a hard fought and thrill packed playoff series.

Nine minor penalties were handed out with five going to Kelowna. Vernon were outshot 64 to 36. Standouts for the Bucks were Thomas who played a good two-way game and Gruber who garnered five points and was a threat all night. Best for Vernon were hardworking Nuyens who stood out on defence and on the forward line and Holland who was hard pressed throughout the series.

One unidentified fan was injured during the raucous demonstration following the final goal. She was taken by ambulance to hospital with under-estimated injuries.

Dale Lang Rink Captures B.C. Policemen Bonspiel

The 1963 Provincial play-off of the Associated Police Curling Clubs is over and the winners of the Duck Trophy and the right to represent British Columbia in the Dominion play-offs at Sudbury, Ontario, are the Nelson Sub-Division rink skipped by Const. Dale Lang. The play-off was a double-knockout affair.

In the "A" event, Kamloops Sub-Division skipped by Const. Al. Hanson of Bralorne Det., met the Nelson team with Nelson coming out as the winner. After being knocked out of the "A" event, Kamloops went to the "B" event and advanced to the final against Victoria Sub-Division team skipped by Const. John Collier of Campbell River.

Victoria was declared winner of the "B" event after piling up a long lead in the first six ends of the game. In the final play-off between the winners of the two events, both teams took turns counting and score was tied 5-1 coming home in the tenth end.

Skip Lang of Nelson wicked out Victoria's shot-rock with his last rock and counted one point. Final score 6-5 favor of Nelson.

The winners received the Duck Trophy, plus miniature ash-tray trophies and will also get an expense-paid trip to Sudbury for the Dominion Associated Police Curling Clubs championship which is tentatively scheduled for early March.

The losers of the final round received wallies. Winners of the consolation event were the Vancouver City police, skipped by Const. C. Gjersten in a play-off against Prince George Sub-Division team skipped by Const. G. R. Wallace.

Alberta Edged Sask. 6-5 At Schoolboy Playdowns

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—Luck or no luck, skip Wayne Saboe had his Alberta rink in the favorite's role in the Canadian schoolboy curling championship today.

But nobody discounted a strong Quebec rink from Montreal High School, the only four-some which could match Alberta's record of four wins in four starts.

Thanks to Saboe's shrewdness and shotmaking, Alberta scored a 5-5 win over mighty Saskatchewan Tuesday night in the fourth round of the 11-round tournament.

It was a skipping duel which provided the best curling of the first two days of the round-robin competition. Saboe and skip Donnie Balderton of Saskatchewan were brilliant.

Saboe broke a 5-5 tie his first rock in the final round but actually won it in the eighth. It was the type of game in which no rink counted more than one rock in any round, but Saskatchewan, by striking first, had a 4-3 lead.

Saboe, helped by a great draw shot by vice-skip Ron Hampton, pleted up two in a thrilling eighth end which caused a difference of opinion.

TOUGH DECISION

Saskatchewan had the last rock and Alberta, with Hampton's rock counting, had to decide whether to add another obstacle to Hampton's already well-guarded rock or go for two and the lead.

Saboe, who didn't have the weight in the early rounds but who curled superbly the rest of the way, squeezed his rock August and reentered the choice in a narrow opening to the four-foot ring.

"He was trying for a guard shot," Saboe agreed.

"I was trying for a guard, he said. 'But we knew it would draw in if I was heavy. Ron (Hampton) told me to throw it and if he felt he could sweep it in, he would.'"

In the ninth end, Balderton, from Moose Jaw's Central Collegiate Institute, tied the score 5-5 with a straight takeout on his last rock. The house was clean.

NUDGES COUNTER OUT

Saboe won it by nudging the Saskatchewan counter out of the back of the house in the 10th end. Balderton had a chance at Saboe's rock but it was a difficult shot. He grazed the Alberta shot and was just a bit heavy.

Hoop Official Denies Pan-Am Rep. Rumor

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP) — M. W. Leeson, president of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, has denied that CABA reneged on its original decision to send Lethbridge Nationals to the Pan-American Games later this year.

He said in an interview Tuesday night the Nationals had never been officially chosen.

He was replying to statements by Western official Luke Moys, who said the CABA had chosen the Lethbridge team in the way, squeezed his rock August and reentered the choice in a narrow opening to the four-foot ring.

"That is not right," Leeson said.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW: Fine planetary influences now encourage occupational and home affairs; also stimulate sentimental matters. Be a bit cautious in the latter situation, however. Don't take brand-new romances too seriously.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY: If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, as of this week, you enter an excellent month where business and finances are concerned. Don't "go overboard" in spending, however, since mid-April will bring some unexpected expenses. The rest of the year will have its ups and downs where these matters are concerned, but keep plugging and late 1963 will show fine results.

Personal relationships will be under excellent influences for most of the year, with emphasis on romance during July and August. Travel will be governed by fine aspects during these same months, and social life should be highly stimulating during December and January. Avoid tension in September, however, and extravagance in November.

A child born on this day will be endowed with great energy and activity; will have a real talent for handling complicated details.

Convicted Man Cuts Throat

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — William Thomas Arthur, 23, failed Monday to win release from jail on a murder charge and slashed his throat in court with a razor blade.

As Arthur was led from the courtroom, blood streaming from his neck, he turned to criminal court Judge Tillman Grant and said, "Your Honor, I'm not guilty of this crime."

He was rushed to a hospital, where the cut was stitched, and returned to jail. He apparently was not seriously hurt.

Maybe a loose shingle started it. Or worn-out weather stripping. Or a gnawing band of termites. Whatever it was, plugging a leak properly can be expensive—and, of course, the longer it's left, the more costly a repair becomes. This goes for peeling paint, crumbling concrete, and missing mortar too.

Yes, keeping a house in shape sometimes costs a lot of money, and occasionally it may cost more than you have on hand. What then? The answer may be a Scotia Bank Home Improvement Loan... money you can borrow at low interest for repairs... or for extra bedrooms, a garage, a carport, modern heating, now and up-to-date plumbing—things that maintain or improve your home as an investment. Just call at your nearest branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia. See the manager. He will welcome the opportunity to discuss how a Scotia Bank Home Improvement Loan can help you.

Belgian Prince Somewhat Awed By Montreal Snow Removal Cost

MONTREAL (CP) — Belgian Prince Albert was awed by Montreal's snow removal problem Tuesday as he began the Quebec phase of his Canadian tour.

Setting down for an informal chat in Mayor Jean Drapeau's office, he asked: "How much of your budget do you have to spend for snow clearance, Mr. Mayor?"

"This year we have authorized spending of close to $8,000,000," the mayor said.

"Wow, $8,000,000! Did you hear that?" he said turning to Belgian Ambassador Guy Dauterive de la Chevalerie.

The 38-year-old heir to the Belgian throne had plenty of opportunity to see Montreal in its best winter outfit, as the royal car moved through downtown traffic from one engagement to the next.

Slippery streets, a wind-whipped snowfall and in some places huge banks of snow joined the setting.

Earlier the prince visited the University of Montreal, largest French-speaking university in the Western Hemisphere, where he was received by the rector, Mgr. Jean Lussier.

The prince was shown the university's 26-story library and met some 50 Belgian professors and students.

Mgr. Lussier said there is a "special relationship" of the first degree between Quebec and Belgium, which share a community of language and culture. He expressed hopes for a greater exchange of students between Belgium and French-speaking Canada.

In honor of the prince's visit the university flew the black-and-gold Belgian flag.

Saskatchewan Medicare Both Praised And Attacked

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Saskatchewan's medical care insurance program came in for both praise and blame Monday.

Health Minister Eric Martin told the British Columbia legislature there is "dictatorship in almost every line" of the Saskatchewan legislation which provided universal, compulsory medical care insurance beginning last July.

Defending the B.C. government's position that the federal government should start a health scheme in conjunction with the provinces, Mr. Martin said in the budget debate that Saskatchewan's plan "unforges on individual liberties of almost everybody."

But the plan was roundly commended by Martin Semchuk (CCF—Meadow Lake) and Gordon T. Snyder (CCF—Moose Jaw) as they moved and seconded the traditional thanks to Lieutenant-governor John Bastedo for the speech from the throne, read at the opening of the Saskatchewan legislature.

Mr. Semchuk said the CCF government has given the people "spectacular" economic progress as well as freedom from financial ruin by payment of hospital bills and freedom of every citizen to have the best available health services, regardless of ability to pay.

Mr. Snyder said the government had successfully introduced the first medical care plan in North America.

BLAMES TAKEOVERS

Frank Gainer (Coalition—Banff—Cochrane) told the Alberta legislature the province's oil industry is losing its competitive nature through takeover by large, integrated owners of small independent companies.

"We have got to obtain more revenue from the oil industry before atomic energy can destroy the market for oil as oil destroyed the market for coal," Mr. Gainer said.

Liberal members of the Ontario legislature tackled a wide range of subjects, including obscene literature and the teaching of lawyers. As Attorney-General Fred Cass steered his estimates through legislative study.

Leo Troy (L—Nipissing) and Ray Edwards (L—Westminster) attacked the presence of what they said were obscene books on newsstands where they could be picked up by teenagers.

Ross White (L—Bruce) suggested that lawyers should be bonded to protect their clients against the loss of money held in trust by the lawyers.

The Quebec legislature had its usual Monday off.

Anonymous Donor Gives $4 Million

OTTAWA (CP) — An anonymous donor has given the Canada Council about $4,250,000 to enable Canadian students to undertake advanced studies in medicine, science and engineering in Canada.

The gift is the largest received by the council since its establishment in 1957.

Douglas B. Weldon, council chairman, announced Monday night that more than $1,000,000 of the donation will be available to the council immediately and the remainder would be received during the next several years.

Amulets were originally worn not as ornaments but as protection against evil spirits.
